

InnerPathWorks

WHO ARE YOU?

By what name do you wish to be called?

In your experiences, what are the favorite activities?

What other activities do you regularly enjoy?

In what activities have you always wished you could participate?

What subjects and activities came easy for you in school?

What subjects and activities bored you or caused you to procrastinate?

What skills and abilities come easily to you?

What have been your experiences in nature and the wilderness? What skills do you possess?

Are there causes you believe in? What are they and how do you contribute?

What appeals to you about InnerPathWorks' training?

If accepted, what would you like to achieve?

Briefly state what you believe life is about. How do you want to live your life?

InnerPathWorks mentors only those students who value the training enough to show up and do their best, those who are willing to do more than is required and push their own limits. What would it take for you to be that kind of participant?

Your training includes dynamic meditation and accessing your subconscious mind, plus much more. Recreational drugs, such as Marijuana, hamper the ability to master these skills. Refrain from such practices while training at InnerPathWorks.
